Subject: EZ Pile burning update PP2

I've been looking forward to writing this one.

We had some great days of burning in PP 2; we more than doubled our pile count and finished the Keystone East project. On Tuesday 2/3, EZ Fire and a CCI crew lit off a record 636 piles, most of those in the Breckenridge Handtreatment 2013 project. With the 220 we burned on 1/28, we're up to 835 in that project area alone.

Our total now stands at 2,084, with over 300 of those either large hand- or machine-built piles. Our acre roll-up is not yet finished, but we believe we have at least 213 acres completed. I will update costs when I get those numbers next week.

We were able to use our nonstandard air quality permit on 2/3 and heard no complaints from the public. We got one neutral air quality comment from Robin Thoebold (one of our regulars) and will respond. Other feedback remains positive.

Questions, holler.....---Ross
